City Hall is delighted to welcome Rebecca Collins as the new Utility Clerk! Rebecca began her role on July 17th. Raised in Todd County & a graduate of TCHS, she moved to Clarksville, TN, where she met her husband, Chris Collins. In 2021, Rebecca & Chris returned to her hometown in Todd County. They share their home with their beloved fur baby, Toby, who brings them great joy along with their love for traveling & spending time with family & friends.

Special thanks to B.R. Knuckles Insurance Agency for another perfect July 3rd on the Square! Thank you for your support of our community & for providing us with the opportunity to be together to celebrate.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT: Economic development is a multifaceted subject, with its meaning varying depending on whom you ask. Some see this as only a new industry that will locate in our city or county. Others see this as an expansion of an existing industry & adding more employees. Some people view it as increasing the number of stores, groceries, restaurants, and shopping venues in a city or county, while others see it as adding more housing. Each perspective is valid, and the priority of each depends on individual preferences. For a city or county to grow and sustain businesses, population growth is essential; more people need to live here or visit. However, the key to any growth or new business venture is investment. Residents or potential investors must be willing to invest money to make it happen. If you want a grocery store, fast-food restaurant, or clothing store, you or a group of people need to come together and invest in the project. The city and county governments are ready to assist and support your efforts. Ultimately, economic development relies on YOU. Supporting and growing local business development is crucial.
